ROACH-BAUER FORESTRY FORUM

A series of lectures with discussion on current forestry topics for foresters and related professionals in Northwestern Pennsylvania and Southwestern New York

PROGRAM

“Chronic Wasting Disease in Cervids”

Andrea Korman, Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) Biologist with the Pennsylvania Game Commission (PGC), will present an update on the latest developments of Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) in cervids (deer family) in Pennsylvania. Deer are known as “keystone” species, meaning they can affect their environment.

Any disease that affects deer will, in turn, affect the landscape over time.

Andrea received her B.S. degree in Biology and Environmental Science at Dickinson College in 2009 and her M.S. in Zoology in 2013 at Oklahoma State University. Andrea has worked in different regions of the country with a variety of wildlife species, before returning to her home state of Pennsylvania as the CWD Biologist for the PGC.
